Development of Geocentric Spatial Language and Cognition Pierre R. Dasen,Ramesh C. Mishra.2010-08-12 Egocentric spatial language uses coordinates in relation to our body to talk about small-scale space ('put the knife on the right of the plate and the fork on the left'), while geocentric spatial language uses geographic coordinates ('put the knife to the east, and the fork to the west'). How do children learn to use geocentric language? And why do geocentric spatial references sound strange in English when they are standard practice in other languages? This book studies child development in Bali, India, Nepal, and Switzerland and explores how children learn to use a geocentric frame both when speaking and performing non-verbal cognitive tasks (such as remembering locations and directions). The authors examine how these skills develop with age, look at the socio-cultural contexts in which the learning takes place, and explore the ecological, cultural, social, and linguistic conditions that favor the use of a geocentric frame of reference.

Fighting Cane and Canon Rashi Rohatgi.2014-08-20 Fighting Cane and Canon: Abhimanyu Unnuth and the Case of World Literature in Mauritius joins the growing field of modern Indian Ocean studies. The book interrogates the development and persistence of Hindi poetry in Mauritius with a focus on the early poetry of Abhimanyu Unnuth. His second work, The Teeth of the Cactus, brings together questions about the value of history, of relationships forged by labour, and of spirituality in a trenchant examination of a postcolonial people choosing to pursue prosperity in an age of globalization. It captures a distinct point of view - Unnuth's connection to the Hindi language is an unusual reaction to the creolization of the island - but also a common experience: both of Indian immigrants and of the reevaluation of their experience by Mauritians reaching adulthood, as Unnuth did, with the Independence of the Mauritian nation in 1968. The book argues that for literary scholars, reading Abhimanyu Unnuth's poetry raises important questions about the methodological assumptions made when approaching so-called marginal postcolonial works - assumptions about translation, language, and canonicity - through the emerging methodologies of World Literature.

Nur Jahan Ellison Banks Findly.1993-03-25 Nur Jahan was one of the most powerful and influential women in Indian history. Born on a caravan traveling from Teheran to India, she became the last (eighteenth) wife of the Mughal emperor Jahangir and effectively took control of the government as he bowed to the effects of alcohol and opium. Her reign (1611-1627) marked the highpoint of the Mughal empire, in the course of which she made great contributions to the arts, religion, and the nascent trade with Europe. An intriguing, elegantly written account of Nur Jahan's life and times, this book not only revises the legends that portray her as a power-hungry and malicious woman, but also investigates the paths to power available to women in Islam and Hinduism providing a fascinating picture of life inside the mahal (harem).

Sorrows of the Sun Sogol Sur.2017

Return of the Surya K.K. Sinha,Himanshi Tiwari.2020-03-02 This book attempts to look at future of technology and need of HR to reorient its philosophy and practices required to build a greater and a better tomorrow, through the views and experiences of a large number of technocrats and leaders, HR practitioners, academicians, business experts, bureaucrats and trade unionists. We have always been overwhelmed by the grandeur of the Sun. The all-powerful, merciful, the creator of our solar system and all lives on our planet. The Surya is the soul of all creations. He is always there with us, around us and is so merciful! We take Him for granted and remain generally unmindful of Him. The world however, has been mostly depending for its increasing needs of energy on fossil fuel, realising now thankfully that this is becoming a major threat to environment and all lives. This realisation has been now driving the globe to be putting greater reliance on renewable sources of energy including the wind, hydro and primarily the Sun. The entire energy value chain is likely to see significant disruption in the coming years and decades. India, which is at an evolving stage in its growth story, promises many opportunities for energy players. The ambitious megaprojects, launched by the Country are likely to drive higher energy consumption. The new thrust on nonconventional and renewable sources of energy has been radically altering the dynamics of the power sector. HR will therefore, have a very important role in understanding energy solutions for the future and it will have to reinvent itself continually to meet the challenges of a technology-driven future, while ensuring not to lose sight of the 'human' aspect of organisation and culture. HR also has to be harnessing its natural capability to be future ready. While technologists and scientists from all over the world are looking for the most green and renewable sources of energy, solar may well emerge as the best substitute for fossil fuels over short time. It could probably allow humans to happily coexist with the flora and fauna, while making the most efficient use of technology. Let us value and celebrate the return of the Surya to make a better world!

Altered Destinations Makarand R. Paranjape.2009-10-15 'Altered Destinations' addresses the complex interrelations of state, nation and identity in India through the medium of culture, and compellingly reframes the debate in the context of the Gandhian concept of swaraj. Engaging with Gandhi's classic text 'Hind Swaraj', which envisioned an entirely new form of identity and governance in India in opposition with its colonial past, Paranjape extends the discussion by exploring how ideas of autonomy, selfhood, and cultural independence have been expressed, depicted and studied.

Gitanjali Rabindranath Tagore.2019-11-02 Gitanjali is a collection of poems by the Bengali poet Rabindranath Tagore. Tagore received the Nobel Prize for Literature, largely for the book. It is part of the UNESCO Collection of Representative Works. Its central theme is devotion & motto is 'I am here to sing thee songs. The original Bengali collection of 156/157 poems was published on August 14, 1910. The English Gitanjali or Song Offerings is a collection of 103 English poems of Tagore's own English translations of his Bengali poems first published in November 1912 by the Indian Society of London. It contained translations of 53 poems from the original Bengali Gitanjali, as well as 50 other poems which were from his drama Achalayatan and eight other books of poetry -- mainly Gitimalya (17 poems), Naivedya (15 poems) and Kheya (11 poems). The translations were often radical, leaving out or altering large chunks of the poem and in one instance fusing two separate poems (song 95, which unifies songs 89,90 of Naivedya). Tagore undertook the translations prior to a visit to England in 1912, where the poems were extremely well received. In 1913, Tagore became the first non-European to win the Nobel Prize for Literature, largely for the English Gitanjali. The English Gitanjali became popular in the West, and was widely translated. The word gitanjali is composed from geet, song, and anjali, offering, and thus means - An offering of songs; but the word for offering, anjali, has a strong devotional connotation, so the title may also be interpreted as prayer offering of song. William Butler Yeats wrote the introduction to the first edition of Gitanjali.

Motivating Thoughts of Atal Bihari Vajpayee Raghav.2020-01-01 As Prime Minister of the country Vajpayeekickstarted many reform and development movements. Under his leadership the Samjhauta Express started between India and Pakistan as a mark of improving the strained political relations between the two countries. Unfortunately it could not materialise based upon the infiltration and cross border violence carried out by Pakistan which eventually turned into the Kargil War in which India defeated Pakistan under the able leadership of Vajpayee. He is also credited for building the nuclear might of the nation by inducting the nuclear weapon programme in the defence capability. He also introduced some major reforms like - Pradhanmantri Gram SadakYojana, Swarnajayanti Gram SwarozgarYojana etc. Much of what he accomplished during his lifetime can be understood on the basis of the ideas that guided him during his lifetime. This book is an attempt in this direction to offer a short and precise account of the thoughts and the concepts that drove this brave man over a journey of some six decades during which he struggled and succeeded. This book is a humble homage to that journey

Bhagat Singh WHY I AM AN ATHEIST? (Other Letter) Bhagat Singh.2021-01-01 Bhagat Singh (1907 - 23 March 1931) was an Indian socialist revolutionary whose two acts of dramatic violence against the British in India and execution at age 23 made him a folk hero of the Indian independence movement.Bhagat Singh was an outstanding revolutionary and martyr of the Indian anti-colonial movement. He represented the youth who were dissatisfied with Gandhian politics and groped for revolutionary alternatives. Bhagat Singh studied the European revolutionary movement and was attracted to anarchism and communism. He became a confirmed atheist, socialist and communist. He realised that the overthrow of British rule should be accompanied by the socialist reconstruction of Indian society and for this political power must be seized by the workers. Bhagat Singh and B.K. Dutt enunciated their understanding of revolution in a statement made in connection with the Assembly Bomb case on 6th June, 1929: 'By Revolution we mean that the present order of things, which is based on manifest injustice must change. Producers or labourers, in spite of being the most necessary element of society, are robbed by their exploiters of their labour and deprived of their elementary rights. The peasant who grows corn for all, starves with his family; the weaver who supplies the world market with textile fabrics, has not enough to cover his own and his children's bodies; masons, smiths and carpenters who raise magnificent palaces, live like pariahs in the slums. The capitalists and exploiters, the parasites of society, squander millions on their whims.'

Nude Vishal Bhardwaj.2018-01-09 All of us know Vishal Bhardwaj as a film-maker whose films have consistently pushed the envelope and as a composer who has churned out some of the biggest chart-toppers in recent years. Here's presenting him in a new avatar: a poet. Over the course of these twenty-five ghazals and an equal number of nazms, Vishal comes across as a poet with a distinctive voice and a style all his own. Whether it is a romantic ode pulsating with an intense passion or yearning, or a bitter, ironic comment on the state of the nation, a gentle sense of wonder, an undeniable rhythm and a subtle intrigue pull one into the poems in Nude, both in the original Hindustani alongside their English translation by Sukrita Paul Kumar. Unusual imagery, an evocative style and an idiom that is contemporary, yet reminiscent of the old-world charm of the Hindi and Urdu poetic traditions, each poem is wrapped in mystique. The Internet and Mirza Ghalib on the roads of Mumbai happily coexist in these poems, offering an insight into how contradictions can be reconciled simply and ingeniously.

A History of Literature in the Caribbean A. The results are as stimulating as they are unexpected. The editors have coordinated the work of a distinguished international team of specialists. Read separately or as a set of three volumes, the History of Literature in the Caribbean is designed to serve as the primary reference book in this area. The reader can follow the comparative evolution of a literary genre or plot the development of a set of historical problems under the appropriate heading for the English- or Dutch-speaking region. An extensive index to names and dates of authors and significant historical figures completes the volume. The subeditors bring to their respective specialty areas a wealth of Caribbeanist experience. Vera M. Kutzinski is Professor of English, American, and Afro-American Literature at Yale University. Her book Sugar's Secrets: Race and The Erotics of Cuban Nationalism, 1993, treated a crucial subject in the romance of the Caribbean nation. Bilinguality and Literacy Manjula Datta.2015-09-01 The new edition of Bilinguality and Literacy argues that bilingual children's literacy learning in English is necessarily an intercultural process. Children's voices are strong in this revised, updated and expanded edition and looks closely at bilingual children's writing development in view of the Ofsted statement that 'fluent bilingual pupils struggle with writing (2003)'. Bilinguality and Literacy will be of interest to undergraduate students of applied linguistics, teacher training courses, and academics researching multilingualism and literacy.

The Sun On Paper Om Purohit Kagad. FOREWORD 'The Sun On Paper' is my English Version of selective poems in Rajasthani and Hindi, originally composed by Late Sh.Om Purohit 'Kagad'. Om Purohit 'Kagad, an educationist, poet, author and critic, both in Rajasthani and Hindi was an absolutely dedicated person to the cause of upliftment of Rajasthani. He wished to bring transformation in society and through his literary works massively attacked chaos prevailing in society and obsolete customs dominating society and hindering its progress. His poems cover a wide range of topics on burning issues. His poems are an expression of a human-being with a deep will to survive, to struggle and invoke others to struggle for change and to build a new society, full of hopes and aspirations. Perpetually interacting with life and the world, he established himself as a distinguished poet. He invoked masses to break shackles of old traditions and create new landmarks. But, Alas!, he could not accomplish his cherished goals due to his untimely demise in 2016, at the age of 57.

Blossoms of affinity Bloom on plant of pang Whether these blossoms persist or wither Their sweet memories Shed fragrance in the orchard of life. I pray to Almighty that May his half cherished will to survive gets an accomplishment when 'The Sun On Paper' reaches voracious readers and his poems stir their mind! Om Purohit 'Kagad' was my facebook friend for nearly three years and chanced to meet him only once in life, when from Hanumangarh, he visited me in Bikaner at my residence. He presented me. Kagaz Pr Suraj his latest Poetry Book in Hindi and 'Bhoht Andharo Hai' Poetry Book in Rajasthani. He expressed his wish to get these poems translated by me into English. I am an ardent fan of his poetry. I assured him that I will do it in near future. His poems are enriched with deep perception, lofty ideas, sensibility and straightforwardness. I have put my best efforts to retain the soul of his poems, while translating in English. These poems, I have selected from his poetry books 'Dhoop Kyon Chedtee Hai', 'Kagaz Pr Suraj' and from Kavit Kosh. This task would not have been possible without consent and kind support of his wife, Shrimati Bhagvati Purohit and two loving daughter Bharati Vyas and Ankita Purohit. 'Dhoop Kyon Chedtee Hai' was single copy available with Bhagwati Ji which she readily made available to me for utilizing for translation. Reputed literary icon, Dr. Neeraj Daiya, is also a motivational source behind this project. English Version of these poems will also enhance chances of its further getting translated in other Indian as well as international languages. I extend my heartiest gratitude to Mr. Sanjeev Kumar, reputed poet and Publisher of India Netbooks, for his constant association. This is my ninth book getting published from India Netbooks. Reviews and comments from dear readers are always appreciable. Thanks in anticipation. Rajni Chhabra Poetess, Polyglot & Numerologist
