My Upside-Down World Hope Atlas.2020-05-21 I give to you a compilation of 278 random thoughts about life in no particular order. Some are serious, some are humorous, and some are twisted - just like life! Within these pages I also have journal entries that reflect my own opinions and my life experiences. I offer them to give you a glance into my world and how I have learned from my quotes. Your emotions, opinions and life experiences will be different, although of course you might find some connections! I invite you to write your own unique thoughts about the quotes that are meaningful to you. This is the beauty of life and journaling. So, are you ready to learn about yourself? Dive on in. Nobody can change anyone else and sometimes circumstances can't be "fixed"; but learning about yourself can help you change. Journaling helps us stay focused on ourselves. Some days you might only be able to write a sentence, other days your pen - or computer keyboard - will keep going non-stop. Don't worry about spelling, grammar, or whether it makes sense. This book is meant to be used over and over. You will see each quote differently as you have new experiences; you will therefore see yourself and your world differently. If you get stuck on an entry, ask yourself why. My hope is that you will learn to use writing as your voice and your teacher.

With gratitude, we recognize and acknowledge the goodness in our lives. In the process, gratitude helps us connect to something greater than ourselves, to other people, and to our Creator. This leads us to humility and an opening of the heart to receive more blessing. Counting your blessings makes it easier to notice them. The more good you see in your life, the happier and more successful you're likely to be. Studies show that regular practices of acknowledging gratitude increase happiness, improve health and relationships, and increase motivation - all of this in just a few minutes a day! A study in 2005 found that happiness could be increased by a simple gratitude exercise. Participants took the time to write down 5 things they were grateful for each week, for 10 weeks. At the end of the study this group was 25% happier than a comparison group who simply listed five events from the week. That's it - just five things a week! Surely we can find five things to be grateful for in a whole week. Let's do this! How To Use This Journal Each day, write down something you are grateful for. There are journal prompts to help you get started and a quote for your focus each week. You can relax with the coloring pages to help you let your thoughts flow, and use the goal lists for planning. There is also a Gratitude Action Plan at the end to help you pay your feelings of gratitude forward, so that you can help others by using your talents and the things you love to do. If you can, find a friend who also wants to become 25% happier through gratitude journaling. At the end of each week, email each other 5 things you were grateful for during the week. Watch your joy increase as you recognize and enjoy more and more blessings in your life! 52 Week Full Year Gratitude Journal 365 Daily Writing Prompts Undated Daily Goal Planner Inspirational Quotes & Affirmations Coloring Pages to relax and let your gratitude flow Just 5 minutes a day will increase your happiness! Gratitude Journal Elizabeth N. Doyd.2015-05-26 Cultivate an Attitude of Gratitude Writing in a gratitude journal may only take a few minutes of your day, but doing so has the power to turn your entire life around. The Law of Attraction says that whatever you focus on grows stronger. By making a habit to focus on the positive side of things, even something you might label as negative, you are tapping into the secret of living a happy life. When we start counting the little things that we treasure, things that may otherwise escape our attention in the chaos of daily life, not only are we becoming more positive and loving, but more giving and appreciative as well. Our happiness is no one's responsibility but our own; when we stop reacting to the people and circumstances around us, we're taking back control of our lives in order to steer it in the direction we want to go. Giving thanks to the universe is giving love, and what we give inevitably comes back to us. Have an attitude of gratitude. Once you make a habit out of appreciating all the gifts in life, big or small, you'll begin to attract more positive people and situations. Bad habits and former worries will disappear, replaced by faith and good feelings toward yourself and others. Starting a gratitude journal is easy. All you need is a pen, a notebook, and a moment to lay down your appreciation for what you've been given in life. This book contains journal prompts on 52 different topics, each one beginning with an inspirational gratitude quote from great men and women of the past and present. You can focus on one topic a week if you wish—that's enough to last you a year. Or you may pick and choose a prompt at random if you are looking for inspiration and new ideas on any given day.
