The English Language in the Digital Age Georg Rehm,Hans Uszkoreit.2012-07-05 This white paper is part of a series that promotes knowledge about language technology and its potential. It addresses educators, journalists, politicians, language communities and others. The availability and use of language technology in Europe varies between languages. Consequently, the actions that are required to further support research and development of language technologies also differ for each language. The required actions depend on many factors, such as the complexity of a given language and the size of its community. META-NET, a Network of Excellence funded by the European Commission, has conducted an analysis of current language resources and technologies. This analysis focused on the 23 official European languages as well as other important national and regional languages in Europe. The results of this analysis suggest that there are many significant research gaps for each language. A more detailed expert analysis and assessment of the current situation will help maximise the impact of additional research and minimize any risks. META-NET consists of 54 research centres from 33 countries that are working with stakeholders from commercial businesses, government agencies, industry, research organisations, software companies, technology providers and European universities. Together, they are creating a common technology vision while developing a strategic research agenda that shows how language technology applications can address any research gaps by 2020.

Handbook of Formative Assessment Heidi Andrade, Gregory J. Cizek. 2010-04-02 Formative assessment has recently become a focus of renewed research as state and federal policy-makers realize that summative assessments have reached a point of diminishing returns as a tool for increasing student achievement. Consequently, supporters of large-scale testing programs are now beginning to consider the potential of formative assessments to improve student achievement. The mission of this handbook is to comprehensively profile this burgeoning field of study. Written by leading international scholars and practitioners, each chapter includes a discussion of key issues that dominate formative assessment policy and practice today, as well as those that are likely to affect research and practice in the coming years. Key features include: Comprehensive - nineteen chapters cover all aspects of formative assessment including classroom assessment, large-scale applications, technological applications, applications for special needs students, K-12 and post-secondary applications, psychometric considerations, case studies, and discussion of alternative assessment formats such as portfolios and performance assessments. Integrative - thoughtful attention is given to the integration of large-scale and classroom assessments. Practical - provides practical guidance on how to conduct formative assessments that generate credible information to guide instruction. Global - provides perspectives from leading international scholars and practitioners whose expertise spans diverse settings, student populations, and educational systems. Accessible Style - although grounded in the latest research, the book's style and tone has been carefully crafted to make it accessible to both the textbook and professional markets. It will also be a critical reference book for researchers in teacher preparation, educational administration, and educational policy studies.

English Language Teaching in the European Credit Transfer System María Luisa Pérez Cañado.2009 This book seeks to bridge the gap between theory and practice by identifying the main challenges which the implementation of the ECTS (European Credit Transfer System) is posing in language teaching. It reports on the outcomes yielded by prominent European research projects and thematic networks and presents the insights of a prestigious set of scholars, practitioners, and policy-makers from different parts of Europe. The book is divided into four main parts. The first section examines the coordination of language studies in the European Higher Education Area, from general language policy development, to the practicalities of coordinating whole degrees or drawing up ECTS study guides. The second part analyses the concept of competencies within the Bologna process.

Methodological aspects are broached in the third thematic block by sharing practical accounts and experiences across Europe. The final part seeks to clarify the most important aspects with regard to evaluating language learning in the new credit system, and examines learning outcomes, student work hours, or ECTS credits.

Cómo hacer una Unidad Didáctica Esteban Vázquez Cano. La aprobación de la LOMLOE (2020) (Ley Orgánica 3/2020, de 29 de diciembre, por la que se modifica la Ley Orgánica 2/2006, de 3 de mayo, de Educación) ha generado un nuevo diseño del currículo con tres elementos prescriptivos: competencias específicas, saberes básicos y criterios de evaluación y otros recomendados como las “situaciones de aprendizaje”. Asimismo, introduce un perfil de salida competencial al final de la etapa de Primaria y Secundaria. Este elemento curricular identifica las competencias clave que todo el alumnado, sin excepción, debe haber adquirido y desarrollado al término de la educación básica. Es la piedra angular del edificio curricular, la matriz que cohesiona y hacia donde convergen las distintas etapas y modalidades que constituyen la formación básica del sistema educativo español. La ley afronta este desarrollo curricular desde una nueva visión del proceso de aprendizaje como la que propone la OCDE, que reconceptualiza el aprendizaje como un proceso cíclico, en lugar de como un proceso lineal, como venía siendo considerado hasta el momento. En este sentido, los pasos para saber planificar la enseñanza y entender cómo se programa el currículo se han convertido -con los últimos cambios legislativos y las nuevas demandas en el diseño del currículo- en una tarea compleja que implica conocer las características culturales, sociales, económicas, normativas y académicas que afectan al ámbito educativo; asimismo, los cambios metodológicos y de evaluación con base en las competencias y en la evaluación criterial precisan de nuevos enfoques y propuestas que permitan llevar a la práctica real nuevas aproximaciones didácticas más dinámicas, competenciales e innovadoras. En este sentido, la innovación en el ámbito metodológico con una gran variedad de recursos y herramientas basadas, muchos de ellas en la tecnología, permiten nuevos enfoques mucho más enriquecidos que los de antaño y propuestas de desarrollo curricular con metodologías activas de aprendizaje. El documento oficial que regula la programación en las etapas educativas preuniversitarias (Infantil, Primaria, Secundaria, Bachillerato y Formación Profesional) se denomina “programación didáctica” y su elaboración es cometido de cada departamento didáctico o equipo de ciclo. Este documento es de vital importancia para el correcto desarrollo del proceso de enseñanza-aprendizaje y, también, forma parte de una de las fases de los procesos selectivos para el ingreso a los cuerpos docentes. En su interior, se desarrolla el currículo (saberes básicos, competencias, criterios de evaluación, elementos transversales y educación en valores) en forma de unidades didácticas. El desarrollo de estas unidades didácticas y su materialización en el aula es cometido de cada docente y es, en ellas, donde imprime su sello personal, su forma de entender la educación, de enseñar la asignatura, de establecer relaciones interdisciplinarias y referencias al mundo circundante y próximo de los estudiantes. Esta propuesta también debe partir de un consenso entre el profesorado que imparte enseñanzas en el mismo nivel y curso para promover, desde el trabajo coordinado y la compartición de ideas y proyectos, un desarrollo lo más adecuado posible del proceso de enseñanza-aprendizaje. A través de la unidad didáctica, el estudiante se aproxima a los saberes básicos (contenidos), competencias, pero también a los valores, al trabajo en equipo, a la comprensión del mundo y de lo que le rodea. Hemos procurado contemplar en este libro los aspectos esenciales en el diseño de las unidades didácticas desde una doble perspectiva teórico-práctica; de forma que pueda servir de ayuda a varios perfiles de lectores a interpretar el contexto socioeducativo y las aproximaciones metodológicas y evaluadoras más significativas para realizar nuevas propuestas curriculares que avancen en una educación más creativa e innovadora desde el posicionamiento normativo establecido en la LOMLOE. Por lo tanto, el libro se encuentra organizado en doce capítulos que abarcan los procesos fundamentales para el desarrollo de una unidad didáctica. Se hace un recorrido por todas las fases esenciales en la confección de una unidad didáctica y se dan pautas, estrategias, consejos y modelos para su elaboración. Asimismo, en el último capítulo proponemos -a modo de ejemplo- una unidad didáctica desarrollada para un curso y materia de la Enseñanza Secundaria Obligatoria. Los docentes en ejercicio de las diferentes etapas educativas y los futuros docentes, opositores, pedagogos y orientadores encontrarán en este libro una guía práctica para diseñar unidades didácticas y entender mejor la estructura del currículo, su diseño y programación. Por todo ello, puede resultar un manual muy útil para los estudiantes del Máster en Formación del Profesorado o para aquellas personas que estén preparando los procesos selectivos de ingreso a cuerpos docentes y para aquellos docentes que quieran mejorar las unidades didácticas de sus departamentos didácticos o equipos de ciclo y para todo el interesado en conocer cómo se diseña y qué partes fundamentales posee una unidad didáctica en la educación actual.
