Leading from Behind Maia Chenaux-Repond.2017-07-19

Drawing on communications rescued from the shredders in the last days of Rhodesia, enlivened by photographs and memories both her own and those of her colleagues Maia Chenaux-Repond tells the story of her work as the Provincial Community Development Officer (Women) for Mashonaland and South in the Ministry of Internal Affairs in the 1970s. There are no records whatsoever in the National Archives of Zimbabwe about the Community Development Section (Women), even though it was active in all the provinces. In the absence of other documentary sources, and all other provincial officers long having emigrated or died, this account of her work fills a significant gap in the pre-independence history of Zimbabwe. The crucial focus of the Womens Section on improving the lives and skills of women in the rural areas became progressively more difficult when the civil war intensified from the early 1970 as rural people and the development workers themselves were moved into Protected Villages, and as the Ministry became increasingly militarized.

Pedley.2014-05-16 Education and Social Work focuses on the relationship between those who are engaged in the operation of the educational system and those who are concerned mainly with individual work. This book discusses the relevance of the link between home and school. Organized into six chapters, this book begins with an overview of the various principles on which the two disciplines are based and explains the motivating factors in social work and education. This text then explains the need for a more pervasive approach to the problems presented by lack of coordination. Other chapters consider the establishment of a socio-educational organization that will actively promote the interfunctioning of schools with homes as well as with the local community. This book discusses as well the education of the individual child in the wider setting. The final chapter outlines the functions of the various social workers. Teachers and social workers will find this book useful.

Josephine Pierce is a bold, remarkable, and inspirational woman who found divine success through trials and tribulations. Her fascinating true story illustrates love with joys and sorrows. The desire to become a registered nurse was not achieved by her. Disappointments continued after a childhood of love and light. Subsequently, darkness became evident during two marriages and her schooling. Depression, anxiety, and inability to cope plus major life changes lead to a nervous breakdown. Convalescence from these catalysts took many years. Her religious experiences convey graces received as a chosen one. Happiness came from clinging to the will of God with utmost devotion. Light continued thereafter by living a prayerful, humble, and simple life with trust in God.
