The site they say will be closed by the end of June 2016, so grab your favorite books as soon as possible. After more than 30 years $domain continues as a popular, proven, low-cost, effective marketing and exhibit service for publishers large and small. $domain book service remains focused on its original stated objective - to take the experience of many years and hundreds of exhibits and put it to work for publishers. Most free books on Google Play are new titles that the author has self-published via the platform, and some classics are conspicuous by their absence; there's no free edition of Shakespeare's complete works, for example. It's disappointing that there's no convenient menu that lets you just browse freebies. Instead, you have to search for your preferred genre, plus the word 'free' (free science fiction, or free history, for example). It works well enough once you know about it, but it's not immediately obvious. Here is an updated version of the $domain website which many of our East European book trade customers have been using for some time now, more or less regularly. We have just introduced certain upgrades and changes which should be interesting for you. Please remember that our website does not replace publisher websites, there would be no point in duplicating the information. Our idea is to present you with tools that might be useful in your work with individual, institutional and corporate customers. Many of the features have been introduced at specific requests from some of you. Others are still at preparatory stage and will be implemented soon.
