A Poet's Assortment Of Poems Ken Martinez.2015-06-23 This book is like a plant growing from a stone wall, a poem growing from a story. A few months ago, I opened my laptop and resumed last night's work on this new literary project, which had no working title — centered on a collection of my poems and their stories. Some of the poems here are written or suggested in my autobiography, 'Koko Ken'. I am having a hard time writing this section because the stories and elucidations are written within this book. Being a Spina-Bifida baby boomer, I wasn't to live past six weeks. I'm sixty-four - by the blessings of the Lord, the plant is alive from the stone wall. So, here we are, growing from the wall, the stories and me behind the poems.

A Lifetime of Love and Other Poems Don Mirabel.2012-11 This volume of lifetime poems contains the selections that had been omitted (much to my wife's chagrin) from volume 1, as well as poems written after the publication of the first volume. The poems in the section devoted to other works are actually also love poems, but the love is that for children and grandchildren, which of course differs from spousal love. The reader may wonder about the dearth of poems for my son's two sons. When my last two grandchildren were infants, I was confronted by the writer's blank wall-that is, when age claimed me and my muse deserted me. They were not the only ones affected by my writer's block: all of my loved ones were. If you have read volume 1, I hope that you will like volume 2 as well. If you have not read the first volume and have enjoyed this one, then I hope it will inspire you to read volume 1 next. In any event, I would appreciate comments from you. You can reach me via e-mail at Donnycyn@aol.com.

A Collection of Poetry about the Memories of Daddy Lauren McIntosh.2017-02-10 This collection is a daughter's dream of poetry. It is dedicated to the real times; good and bad of being a daughter and specifically focusing on the relationship between father and daughter. First addressing the idea that event he man that a girl sees as perfect can become flawed when he experiences the death of his wife but in the end forgiveness is what has to be done so that everyone can have peace. Next we look at our hands and compare them to that of what we see in our father's hands: the size, the love, the strength, all the things that hands do and so much more. Finally we reflect on our firsts and how all of them were joyous and shared with our father. Through laughs and tears we remember and think about the joys of having a close relationship with our father's. It is a collection that will make you call your dad and say Thank you after you read it, or it will make you thank your mom if your dad wasn't there, either way you will most definitely be thankful.

Free Poetically David Watkins.2022-07-05 THE PLACE HOLLOWED OUT When born the occupied space in the human mind is comparatively empty considering immediately the five human senses begin sending signals for processing and storage and suddenly memories generated by those around us and referred to us as what we are taught become the decisions of behavior, that is, things we did, what we do and what we ought. A different moment for every human being but in due time we learn the process of choice. We're convinced 1 plus 1 is 2 by the outside teacher, and acceptance is taught by an inner voice. A mind that comprehends stars hundreds of thousands of miles away but can appreciate raindrops. Calculates, speculates, contemplates but doesn't know where a simple breeze starts or stops. So the spaces where numbers, letter arrangements, emotions and memories about love or hate provide chemical storage in each of us and is individually controlled as we influence our fate. Chemist, electrician, doctors, surgeons, undeniably the choices can make us weep or sing. Filling that place hollowed out in our mind with what we choose and whatever our life brings. Only a few will read what was intended to mean so much to so many but you may simple reject it. Go ahead read the political, the humor, the love, but don't be surprised if it touches your spirit. The heart disclosed in this writing contains information for that place hollowed out in every mind. It may be only one simple inspiring little poem, perhaps hidden, but that's for you to find.

Betrayal, Sorrow and Tomorrow Chris F. Wollinks.2008-10 Organized in three parts, Betrayal, Sorrow and Tomorrow poetically and illustratively expresses the effects of divorce on the spouses and children. Part I (Betrayal) tries to help the reader keep wedding vows. The first of 53 poems, The Senses Tell It All, explores problems resulting into divorce and induces the reader to Give that hugging feeling to restore the lost luster. Other poems give guidance: Count Your Blessings, and Don't Do It. Part II (Sorrow) explores the painful Sorrow associated with divorce. The poem Both Wondering Why wonders why the spouse did it. Loneness, a traumatic divorce aspect, is expressed in Alone and Really, Really Alone. The poems then take on a reconciliation attempt and the author expresses hopefulness in Rebuilding Hope and New Start for Two Hearts. However, when reconciliation efforts are dashed, the poet expresses the anguish in I Tried To No Avail and Laying Aside a Feeling Part III (Tomorrow) takes on a new twist as the poet turns to finding love. The desire to live (I Will Live) fights feelings of sorrow, as What I Want, What We All Want expresses desires. The poet explores the desires of the heart and the reasonableness of the mind. Your mind must make the decision Navigating away from a collision Of heart and mind going blind But rather of heart and mind that bind Stating that the mind and heart must agree, a perfect match for the poet occurs only When Love Meets Intellect. Find out if the poet finds love. Throughout the poet provides several poems about helping the parents deal with the effects of divorce on the children. The poems Win Your Children's Heart, It's Not Your Fault Kids, Loving That Child, Visitations and Good Father Forever should be read by every parent going through a divorce.

Moms Inspirations Shawna Luckey.2015-10-08 I lost my mom in January of 2013. She was my inspiration. She always told us to see the gifts God gave you. She always told us we can do anything we set our minds too. I was inspired through my grief to help others through theirs. I write these poems for people who have lost their loved one in a tragedy or they have just passed on to heaven to return home. They are now our angels watching over us. When I sit and think of a person and how sad they must be or how their heart is breaking so much, it inspires me to write. It lifts their hearts to a peace filled state; their hearts can be light again to enjoy the memory of their lost loved one. They can smile once again, knowing their loved ones are with them always in Gods miracles. He shows us his work in the beauty of the sky and the world in general, all around us. He tries to help us get through our grief by showing how green the grass is or how blue the sky can be. I love you, Mom. I love you, Dad. Thank you for showing me Gods gifts.
