Los libros de texto Carlos Lomas,Fabio Jurado.2022-12-15 Los libros de texto han sido desde siempre objeto de interés tanto para las encrucijadas que deben resolverse en los sistemas de educación nacionales como en el campo de la investigación didáctica y pedagógica. ¿Garantes del acceso democrático a los saberes de la educación obligatoria o dispositivos que promueven la reproducción acrítica de conocimientos oficiales y la rutinización de las prácticas del aula? ¿Objetos editoriales innovadores o productos de mercado de factura previsible? Los libros de texto: ¿tradición o innovación? es una recopilación de artículos que ponen en juego estas y muchas otras preguntas que encuentran en los aportes de investigadores e investigadoras colombianos, españoles y argentinos algunos modos de seguir abordando un tema que cobra relevancia no solo en la cotidianidad del aula, sino también en las decisiones de política educativa relacionadas con los materiales de enseñanza. En el contexto actual de desarrollo y diversificación de los canales y soportes para la circulación del conocimiento, la mirada multidisciplinaria sobre los libros de texto -atendiendo a sus ideologías subyacentes, a los contenidos que presentan, al modo en que se seleccionan y se evalúan, entre muchos otros aspectos- conforma una agenda para su estudio que este libro presenta de manera sólida y con originales trabajos.

Nivel cognitivo y competencias de pensamiento histórico en los libros de texto de Historia de España e Inglaterra. Un estudio comparativo = Cognitive level and historical thinking competencies in history textbooks from Spain and England. A comparative study Martínez Hita, María,Gómez Carrasco, Cosme J. . El objetivo de este artículo es analizar las actividades de los libros de texto de Historia de España e Inglaterra para comprobar su nivel cognitivo y la presencia de competencias de pensamiento histórico. Se han analizado 4602 actividades de manuales escolares de ambos países para comparar en qué medida se promueve el pensamiento histórico y habilidades cognitivas complejas en cada país. Para conseguir este objetivo se han analizado tres variables: tipología de actividad, nivel cognitivo de la actividad y la presencia de conceptos históricos de primer y segundo orden. Los resultados muestran que existen diferencias entre España e Inglaterra en relación a la complejidad de las actividades y al desarrollo y evaluación del pensamiento histórico a través de las mismas. Este estudio concluye destacando la necesidad de replantear la enseñanza de la historia a través del trabajo con fuentes primarias y otras destrezas de pensamiento histórico que permitan el desarrollo de competencias históricas y la resolución de actividades con un mayor nivel de complejidad.

Diversidad y contenidos socioculturales en libros de texto para la enseñanza del español como L2 López-Jiménez,María Dolores. Apenas se han llevado a cabo investigaciones acerca de la presencia de contenidos socioculturales en libros de texto (LT) para la enseñanza de L2 (Risager y Chapelle, 2013). Este estudio se centra en analizar si el tratamiento dado a dichos contenidos en LT para la enseñanza del español como L2 es diversificado o, en cambio, selectivo y homogéneo. Para ello, se evalúan nueve LT destinados a la enseñanza del español como L2 con fines generales, tres LT por cada nivel de lengua, es decir, inicial, intermedio y avanzado, dirigidos a adultos y jóvenes adultos y publicados entre 2004-2014. Los resultados indican que (a) la amplitud geo-política de la comunidad hispanohablante está presente en algo más de la mitad de los LT, el resto de LT se centra en España y/o cubre dos o más países de habla hispana de forma superficial; (b) la diversidad humana y social del mundo hispanohablante está ausente en los LT analizados, ya que ciertos grupos de edad como los adultos/jóvenes adultos quedan sobrerrepresentados mientras que otros grupos socioeconómicos como la clase trabajadora y las personas de escasos ingresos junto con los entornos rurales están infrarrepresentados o ausentes; (c) los diferentes usos sociolingüísticos del español (nacional-L1, intranacional L2-SL; lengua franca L2-LE/LF) están reflejados en menos de la mitad de los LT, aunque de forma parcial, pues sólo se distingue entre el uso nacional y el intranacional. Se concluye que el enfoque dado a los contenidos socioculturales en estos LT es selectivo y homogéneo, ofreciendo una visión de la cultura meta como si fuera una entidad homogénea, estática y eminentemente urbanita en la que los ciudadanos viven en un mundo idealizado carente de problemas. Asimismo, el nivel y el año de publicación de los LT analizados no ejercen una influencia clara en la presencia de contenidos socioculturales.

Gringolandia Stephen D. Morris.2005-02-10 Mexico's views of the United States have been characterized as stridently anti-American, but recent policy changes in Mexico mark a fundamental transformation in the relationship. This thoughtful and original work answers questions about the impact of these policy shifts on Mexican nationalism and perceptions of the United States. As the only developing country to have entered into a free trade agreement (NAFTA) with a developed country, Mexico offers a unique and invaluable case study of the impact of globalization on a nation and its national identity. Exploring Mexico's experience also allows us to consider how other countries perceive the United States, especially in the post-9/11 climate. Analyzing the diversity of Mexican views of the United States, Gringolandia contributes a rich and nuanced dimension to our understanding of contemporary Mexico and Mexicans' feelings about the vital cross-border relationship.

Contact, Community, and Connections: Current Approaches to Spanish in Multilingual Populations Gregory L. Thompson, Scott M. Alvord.2019-09-05 This edited volume provides state of the art research on developing areas of Spanish in contact with other languages. This manuscript is unique in its broad yet coherent approach to the study of Spanish in bilingual contexts by investigating current issues in the field through well-designed research and innovative analyses. In addition, this book concludes with research on how languages in contact are reflected in individuals in educational settings as well as insights on how to teach bilinguals raised in contact with English and Spanish. This manuscript is divided into three major themes that focus on the overall issues of Spanish in bilingual contexts: 1. The first section, titled Language and Identity, is composed of four chapters that focus on the connection between language and identity in unique settings. 2. The second section of the manuscript is titled Language and Dialectal Contact and is composed of six chapters that analyze the dialectal and linguistic changes in languages in contact in a variety of settings. 3. The final section is titled Language in Educational Settings and consists of four chapters with a focus on heritage speakers and second language students of Spanish in different classroom settings as well as abroad.
