Small Stories Research Alex Georgakopoulou, Korina Giaxoglou, Sylvie Patron. 2023-07-31 This collection showcases the diversity and disciplinary breadth of small stories research, highlighting the growing critical mass of scholarship on small stories and its reach beyond discourse and sociolinguistic perspectives. The volume both takes stock of and seeks to advance the development of small stories research by Alexandra Georgakopoulou and Michael Bamberg, as a counterpoint to conventional models in narrative studies, one which has accounted for atypical yet salient activities in everyday life, such as fragmentation and open-endedness, anchoring onto the present, and co-constructive dimensions in stories and identities. With data from different languages and contexts, emphasis is placed on the analytical aspects of the paradigm toward producing models for the analysis of structures, textual and interactional choices, and genres of small stories. Chapters on the role and commodification of small stories in digital environments reflect on the paradigm's recent extension to the analysis of social media communication. This book will appeal to scholars interested in narrative inquiry and narrative analysis, in such fields as sociolinguistics, literary studies, communication studies, and biographical studies.

Le partage social des émotions Bernard Rimé. 2005 Le mot émotion est sur toutes les lèvres et dans tous les médias. Le spectacle de l'émotion suscite un intérêt insatiable. Celui qui vit une émotion s'empresse d'en parler. Son entourage l'écoute avec avidité et répète ensuite à d'autres ce récit. Les épisodes émotionnels singuliers se propagent ainsi dans les groupes. Pourquoi cette fascination pour l'émotion ? Qu'est-ce qu'une émotion ? Qu'est-ce qui la déclenche ? Quelles fonctions remplit-elle ? Pourquoi partageons-nous nos émotions ? Est-ce que parler d'une émotion soulage ? Quand l'émotion devient-elle traumatique ? Qu'est-ce qu'un trauma ? Quelles en sont les conséquences ? Peut-on s'en prémunir par l'expression ? Ce livre examine ces questions à partir d'une documentation scientifique abondante. Il distingue ce que l'expression apporte et n'apporte pas. Il vise à comprendre pourquoi l'expérience de l'émotion stimule de manière spectaculaire le contact social et la communication sociale.

Cultural Sustainability and Regional Development Joost Dessein, Elena Battaglini, Lummina Horlings. 2015-08-13 Meeting the aims of sustainability is becoming increasingly difficult; at the same time, the call for culture is becoming more powerful. This book explores the relationships between culture, sustainability and regional change through the concept of 'territorialisation'. This new concept describes the dynamics and processes in the context of regional development, driven by collective human agency that stretches beyond localities and marked-off regional boundaries. This book launches the concept of 'territorialisation' by exploring how the natural environment and culture are constitutive of each other. This concept allows us to study the characterisation of the natural assets of a place, the means by which the natural environment and culture interact, and how communities assign meaning to local assets, add functions and ascribe rules of how to use space. By highlighting the time-space dimension in the use and consumption of resources, territorialisation helps to frame the concept and grasp the meaning of sustainable regional development. Drawing on an international range of case studies, the book addresses both conceptual issues and practical applications of 'territorialisation' in a range of contexts, forms, and scales. The book will be of great interest to researchers and postgraduates in sustainable development, environmental studies, and regional development and planning.

Kinship and Collective Action Gero Bauer, Anya Heise-von der Lippe, Nicole Hirschfelder, Katharina Luther. 2020-09-28 Make kin, not babies!, Donna Haraway demands in an attempt to offer new and creative ways of thinking what kinship might mean in an age of ecological devastation. At the same time, the emergence of a seemingly new culture of public protest and political opinion have provoked scholars such as Judith Butler to address the contexts and dynamics of public collective action. This volume explores the dynamic relationship between structures of kinship and the (material) conditions under which collective action emerges from a literary and cultural studies perspective. How are kinship and collective action negotiated in literature, the arts, or in specific historical moments, and how does this affect the role of representation? How have conceptualizations of both concepts developed over time, and what can we infer from this for questions of kinship and collective action today?

Traité d'études parlementaires Olivier Rozenberg, Eric Thiers.2018-07-04 Instances de législation, forums publics, lieux de jeux de pouvoir, réunions d'élites politiques... Les parlements apparaissent différemment selon la perspective de l'analyste. Définir ce dont le Parlement est le nom suppose ainsi de multiplier les focales - ce que la spécialisation de la recherche et l'éparpillement des connaissances rendent aujourd'hui malaisé. Face à un tel défi, ce volume collectif a l'ambition de proposer une revue des savoirs contemporains relatifs au Parlement qu'ils relèvent des sciences sociales ou juridiques. Il regroupe les contributions des meilleurs spécialistes francophones ou internationaux qui présentent la façon dont leur discipline académique envisage l'objet Parlement. Aux côtés des approches relevant classiquement de l'histoire, du droit et de la science politique, on trouve également des perspectives disciplinaires moins attendues éclairant d'une lumière originale l'objet Parlement que ce soit l'anthropologie, l'économie ou les études de genre. Au total, les vingtdeux contributions ici rassemblées offrent une synthèse unique de l'état des savoirs sur le Parlement et aident ainsi à en saisir aussi bien la substance que ses transformations contemporaines.

Experimental Practice Dimitris Papadopoulos.2018-08-03 In Experimental Practice Dimitris Papadopoulos explores the potential for building new forms of political and social movements through the reconfiguration of the material conditions of existence. Rather than targeting existing institutions in demands for social justice, Papadopoulos calls for the creation of alternative ontologies of everyday life that would transform the meanings of politics and justice. Inextricably linked to technoscience, these “alterontologies”—which Papadopoulos examines in a variety of contexts, from AIDS activism and the financialization of life to hacker communities and neuroscience—form the basis of ways of life that would embrace the more-than-social interdependence of the human and nonhuman worlds. Speaking to a matrix of concerns about politics and justice, social movements, matter and ontology, everyday practice, technoscience, the production of knowledge, and the human and nonhuman, Papadopoulos suggests that the development of alterontologies would create more efficacious political and social organizing.
