Application of Native Knowledge in EIA D. J. Nakashima, Canadian Environmental Assessment Research Council.1990 Examines environmental data from the Inuit of three communities in southeastern Hudson Bay: Sanikiluaq, N.W.T. and Inukjuak and Kuujjarapik, northern Quebec pertaining to the biogeography and ecology of the Hudson Bay eider (Somateria mollissima sedentaria). Author proposes that environmental impact assessment in arctic regions can substantially benefit from Inuit environmental knowledge. Confronted with unrelenting pressure for northern petroleum development and concerns for oil spills, individuals responsible for EIA face a most difficult task.

The Health Of Women Jill Gay.2018-05-04 This book provides a state-of-the-art, comprehensive review of the many factors that affect women's health, ranging from low socioeconomic status and the impact of the debt crisis to more direct medical determinants, such as poor nutrition, hemorrhage, eclampsia, and infection. At stake are the unnecessary and preventable deaths of women and girls around the globe. The contributors assess the reduced quality of life for women and the often unacknowledged contributions of women and girls as the backbone of production in both developing and developed countries. Synthesizing perspectives of policymakers and practitioners, researchers and scholars, The Health of Women urges major new initiatives to understand and improve women's health, taking into account biological elements such as the life cycle of women as well as cultural constraints and socioeconomic realities.

The European Landscape Convention Michael Jones,Marie Stenseke.2011-02-09 This important and insightful book provides, for the first time, a broad presentation of ongoing research into public participation in landscape conservation, management and planning, following the 2000 European Landscape Convention which came into force in 2004. The book examines both the theory of participation and what lessons can be learnt from specific European examples. It explores in what manner and to what extent the provisions for participation in the European Landscape Convention have been followed up and implemented. It also presents and compares different experiences of participation in selected countries from northern, southern, eastern and western Europe, and provides a critical examination of public participation in practice. However, while the book's focus is necessarily on Europe, many of the conclusions drawn are of global relevance. The book provides a valuable reference for researchers and advanced students in landscape policies and management, as well as for professionals and others interested in land-use planning and environmental management.

Banquets, Rations et Offrandes Alimentaires au Proche-Orient ancien Daniel Bonneterre.2021-06-24 This book investigates food consumption in the ancient Near East. Archaeological discoveries and abundant textual documentation help reconstruct food supply to the cities of Mesopotamia and provide a better idea of the variety of products available. Some aspects of everyday life are presented in a new light, notably the social role of the banquet.

Une face cachée des agriculteurs Ludovic Renaudin.2018-12-05 Ce livre est la parole d'un agriculteur qui n'est ni pour ni contre tel ou tel système de culture. Il veut juste exprimer ce qui peut se vivre en agriculture, mais aussi dénoncer l'incohérence, l'ignorance voire l'insolence de ceux qui critiquent sans aller à la rencontre des agriculteurs, sans connaître leur réel, hormis par ce qui est divulgué sur les réseaux sociaux ou autres moyens de communication. Ce livre, c'est donc une réponse aux questions non posées, un stop non scientifique, certes, mais qui veut renvoyer chacun(e) à ses responsabilités. L'écologie, ce n'est pas de dire aux autres ce qu'ils doivent faire, c'est d'abord une responsabilité de chacun(e), là où il (elle) est. La nature est vie, elle est processus de vie sous toutes ses formes. L'écologie doit donc être aussi processus de vie en se mettant d'abord à l'écoute de ceux qui accompagnent le vivant, de certains qui se taisent ou meurent en silence. Pourtant nous avons besoin d'eux pour manger trois fois par jour et pour capter le carbone de l'air. Ils sont parmi les seuls à pouvoir le faire. Écoutons-les !
