Who's who in Commerce and Industry .1965

The Multigenerational Workplace Jennifer Abrams, Valerie von Frank. 2013-11-05 Collaboration between professionals of all generations is an essential factor in school success. What do Boomers need from younger generations? What do GenXers and Millennials have to offer Boomers? Each generation wants to contribute and to feel empowered. The youngest generation wants an equal voice; Boomers want to leave a legacy; GenXers want to make a difference. This book, based on a very popular workshop that Abrams has presented across the U.S. and Canada, will address how all educators can look through a generational filter to be more effective communicators, teachers and administrators; to help retain those who may be more easily frustrated at their lack of immediate success; and to plan for succession by future generations of leaders. Concrete tools are key elements of the book, helping readers to define the generations and their needs, to identify themselves on the continuum, and to plan ways to bridge generational differences.

Prince, Chester Bailey Fernando. 2023-12-26 In 'Fortress of Terror: 550+ Horror Classics, Supernatural Mysteries & Macabre Tales,' Wilhelm Hauff provides a vast anthology of chilling literature that traverses the depths of the human psyche through supernatural narratives and dark mysteries. This compendium features influential works in the horror and gothic genres, encompassing the fears and societal tensions of different eras. Themes of forbidden knowledge, existential dread, and the supernatural are illustrated through dense, atmospheric prose and intricately woven plots. The text not only showcases prominent figures such as Edgar Allan Poe and H.P. Lovecraft but also offers a panoramic view on the evolution of the macabre literature from the foundational gothic thrills of Walpole to the cosmic horror of Lovecraft. Each tale is meticulously formatted for digital platforms, ensuring that the tension and terror within are as hauntingly accessible today as they were at their conception. Wilhelm Hauff, the architect of this compilation, was an adept storyteller known for his own contributions to German Romantic literature. Although his life was tragically brief, his passions for folklore and the fantastical are evident in the assembly of works within this collection. Hauff understood the power of the macabre to reflect societal fears and personal anxieties, selecting stories for this anthology that explore the darkest corners of the human condition. His expertise in narrative construction allowed him to recognize and curate stories with profound psychological impact and enduring legacy. 'Fortress of Terror' will intrigue aficionados of gothic horror and supernatural fiction, offering an extensive journey into the shadows that linger in the corners of classic literature. The blend of timeless tales captures a spectrum of dread from subtle to visceral, quiet hauntings to grand, cosmic terrors. Students of literary history and enthusiasts of the genre alike will find this anthology a vital addition to their collections, providing not only hours of gripping entertainment but also important context for the development and influence of horror literature.
