Strategies to Improve Cardiac Arrest Survival Institute of Medicine,Board on Health Sciences Policy,Committee on the Treatment of Cardiac Arrest: Current Status and Future Directions.2015-09-29 Cardiac arrest can strike a seemingly healthy individual of any age, race, ethnicity, or gender at any time in any location, often without warning. Cardiac arrest is the third leading cause of death in the United States, following cancer and heart disease. Four out of five cardiac arrests occur in the home, and more than 90 percent of individuals with cardiac arrest die before reaching the hospital. First and foremost, cardiac arrest treatment is a community issue - local resources and personnel must provide appropriate, high-quality care to save the life of a community member. Time between onset of arrest and provision of care is fundamental, and shortening this time is one of the best ways to reduce the risk of death and disability from cardiac arrest. Specific actions can be implemented now to decrease this time, and recent advances in science could lead to new discoveries in the causes of, and treatments for, cardiac arrest. However, specific barriers must first be addressed. Strategies to Improve Cardiac Arrest Survival examines the complete system of response to cardiac arrest in the United States and identifies opportunities within existing and new treatments, strategies, and research that promise to improve the survival and recovery of patients. The recommendations of Strategies to Improve Cardiac Arrest Survival provide high-priority actions to advance the field as a whole. This report will help citizens, government agencies, and private industry to improve health outcomes from sudden cardiac arrest across the United States.

Pediatric Advanced Life Support Guy H. Haskell,Marianne Gausche-Hill,Mariann M. Manno.2001-01 The purpose of this book is to encourage the learning and retention of the material presented in a PALS Course. The material has been updated according to the 2000 Guidelines. The authors have worked through the material paragraph by paragraph, creating questions about the information presented in that text. Whereas the primary purpose of the other volumes in the 'Pearls of Wisdom' series is to help you study for a standardised test, the primary purpose of this book is to help you to learn and review information by utilising the Socratic method instead of reading a text. It will help you study and review information critical to improving the emergency care received by our children. With this goal in mind, the text is written in question/answer format. The student receives immediate gratification with a correct answer. Misleading or confusing multiple-choice 'foils' are not provided, thereby eliminating the risk of assimilating erroneous information.
