Corot Gary Tinterow,Michael Pantazzi,Vincent Pomarède,Galeries nationales du Grand Palais (France),National Gallery of Canada,Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.).1996 Published to accompany a major exhibition of Jean-Baptiste-Camille Corot's paintings held in Paris and Ottawa during 1996, and forthcoming to New York. From nearly 3,000 paintings by this poetic 19th-century artist, the curators chose 163 works, which are reproduced here along with full art-historical discussions of each. Three major essays chronicle Corot's life and the development of his art; additional essays elucidate the subject of forgeries and describe the collecting of his works. Much original new scholarship is included along with a review of the scholarly literature, a concordance, and a chronology. 9.5x12.5Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR

The Memory of Nature in Aboriginal, Canadian and American Contexts Françoise Besson,Claire Omhovère,Héliane Ventura.2014-06-12 This volume engages the reader's interest in the relationship that binds man to nature, a relationship which makes itself manifest through certain literary or visual artefacts produced by Native or non-Native writers and artists. It ranges from the study of literatures (mainly from Canada - including Quebec and Acadia - but also from Britain, the United States of America, France, Turkey, and Australia) to the exploration of films, photographs, paintings and sculptures produced by Aboriginal artists from North America. Thanks to a relational paradigm founded on spatial and temporal enlargement, it re-imagines the critical outlook on indigenous production by instigating a dialogue between endogenous and exogenous scholars, novelists and artists, and by weaving together interdisciplinary approaches spanning anthropology, geology, ecocriticism and the study of myths. From the writings by Scott Momaday to those by Tomson Highway, from Pauline Johnson to Louise Erdrich, or from the photographs by William McFarlane Notman and Edward Burtynsky or the films by Randy Redroad to the paintings by Emily Carr, it explores art as the sedimentation of nature. It simultaneously interrogates the representation of nature and the nature of representation as a geological and generic process inscribed in the history of mankind. Without eclipsing differences and imposing a reified Eurocentric critical discourse upon indigenous productions, this volume does not colonize indigenous texts or indulge in cultural appropriation of works of art, but looks for historical, mythological or geological traces of the past; a past characterized by the intimacy between man and animal, man and rock, or man and plant, a past which is allowed to resurface through the creative and critical outlooks that are bestowed upon its subjacent or subterranean existence. It resurfaces, not as nostalgic memory but as an interactive fertilization giving the present a new life in which the non-human provides a key to the understanding of the human bond to nature.

Edible Insects Arnold van Huis,Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.2013 Edible insects have always been a part of human diets, but in some societies there remains a degree of disdain and disgust for their consumption. Although the majority of consumed insects are gathered in forest habitats, mass-rearing systems are being developed in many countries. Insects offer a significant opportunity to merge traditional knowledge and modern science to improve human food security worldwide. This publication describes the contribution of insects to food security and examines future prospects for raising insects at a commercial scale to improve food and feed production, diversify diets, and support livelihoods in both developing and developed countries. It shows the many traditional and potential new uses of insects for direct human consumption and the opportunities for and constraints to farming them for food and feed. It examines the body of research on issues such as insect nutrition and food safety, the use of insects as animal feed, and the processing and preservation of insects and their products. It highlights the need to develop a regulatory framework to govern the use of insects for food security. And it presents case studies and examples from around the world. Edible insects are a promising alternative to the conventional production of meat, either for direct human consumption or for indirect use as feedstock. To fully realise this potential, much work needs to be done by a wide range of stakeholders. This publication will boost awareness of the many valuable roles that insects play in sustaining nature and human life, and it will stimulate debate on the expansion of the use of insects as food and feed.

La principauté ayyoubide d'Alep, (579/1183-658/1260) Anne-Marie Eddé.1999 Nach der Eroberung Aleppos durch Saladin 1183 und vor der Zerstörung der Stadt durch die Mongolen 1260 erlebte Nordsyrien eine Epoche groaer Blute. Aufgrund sehr verschiedenartiger Quellen schildert dieses Werk in einer groaangelegten Synthese erstmals und unter allen Aspekten die damalige Geschichte Aleppos und seines Territoriums. Betont wird die politische Rolle des Sultans von Aleppo, aber intensiv behandelt werden auch das Besondere der zivilen und militärischen Institutionen, die Entwicklung des religiösen Lebens, des Unterrichtswesens, der Kultur und der Stadtentwicklung sowie der wirtschaftliche Aufschwung und die gesellschaftliche Vielfalt. Dadurch treten erstmals bisher wenig bekannte Aspekte der Ayyubidendynastie ebenso hervor wie die besondere Rolle Nordsyriens innerhalb des mittelalterlichen Vorderen Orients. In sum, this book is a truly awesome achievement. It is a work to be savored and read slowly. It is a veritable mine of information on a host of topics, major and minor. The book will undoubtedly serve as a reference work which will be of inestimable value not just to those specializing in twelfth and thirteenth-century Islamic dynastic history, but also to social and economic historians and scholars of the Crusades. Would that many another city and dynasty in the Islamic Middle Ages were subjected to an equally comprehensive but cool and objective analysis. This will be a hard act to follow. Journal of Economic and Social History of the Orient In den Freiburger Islamstudien sind bereits zahlreiche wichtige und gewichtige Werke erschienen. Die Monographie von Edde setzt diese Reihe würdig fort. Man kann für dieses Buch nur voll des Lobes sein. ... im Aufbau und in der Darstellung sehr klar und in den Urteilen sehr vorsichtig und ausgewogen. Dem, der nur eine punktuelle Information sucht, wird der umfangreiche und sorgfältig angelegte Index Auskunft geben. Zeitschrift für Geschichte der arabisch-islamischen Welt Indeed, Edde's massive and encyclopedic new work will be of use to all historians of the medieval Levant. [a] In particular, the appendixes are of special value. They provide convenient summaries of carefully extracted raw data in tabular form on over fifty topics. A work as exhaustive as this is testimony to the tireless energy of the scholar who produced it. Journal of Near Eastern Studies She conscientiously weighs methods and materials, mentions the opinions of predecessors and takes into account the results of studies in neighbouring fields, enabling the reader to trace the careful considerations that lead to her conclusions. This work is a valuable addition to our knowledge, not only of Aleppo and its surroundings, but of the history of the Middle East in general. Bibliotheca Orientalis. (Franz Steiner 1999)

Lake Pavin Télesphore Sime-Ngando,Pierre Boivin,Emmanuel Chapron,Didier Jezequel,Michel Meybeck.2016-10-31 This book represents the first multidisciplinary scientific work on a deep volcanic maar lake in comparison with other similar temperate lakes. The syntheses of the main characteristics of Lake Pavin are, for the first time, set in a firmer footing comparative approach, encompassing regional, national, European and international aquatic science contexts. It is a unique lake because of its permanently anoxic monimolimnion, and furthermore, because of its small surface area, its substantially low human influence, and by the fact that it does not have a river inflow. The book reflects the scientific research done on the general limnology, history, origin, volcanology and geological environment as well as on the geochemistry and biogeochemical cycles. Other chapters focus on the biology and microbial ecology whereas the sedimentology and paleolimnology are also given attention. This volume will be of special interest to researchers and advanced students, primarily in the fields of limnology, biogeochemistry, and aquatic ecology.
