äußerst beliebten Reihe ,'Englisch beherrschen mit 12 Themenbereichen'. Sobald Sie die Vokabeln in diesem Buch beherrschen, haben Sie eine sehr gute Basis, um fließend über etwa 36 Alltagsthemen zu sprechen. Dieses Buch ist das ultimative Sprungbrett vom ,mittelschweren' zum
,fortgeschrittenen' Englisch. Viele Englischlerner auf mittlerem Niveau tendieren dazu, in die Falle zu geraten und immer wieder dieselben Vokabeln zu verwenden. Sie sprechen häufig über Themen, für die sie die Wörter kennen und vermeiden alles außerhalb ihres ,Wohlfühlbereichs'. Das Problem dabei ist, dass, selbst wenn sie ganz okay klingen, sie niemals besser werden.
Wenn Sie sich wirklich verbessern möchten, müssen Sie in der

Lage sein, über eine große Bandbreite an Themen zu sprechen. Hierfür müssen Sie das spezielle Vokabular, das mit diesen Themen in Verbindung steht, erlernen. Was können Sie mit diesem Buch erreichen? Sie werden 640 nützliche Wörter und Phrasen lernen. Sie werden in der Lage sein, selbstsicher über 36 neue Themen zu sprechen. Dies wird Ihre englische Ausdrucksfähigkeit enorm verbessern. Alle neuen Wörter und Phrasen werden durch lustige und interessante Artikel und Geschichten eingeführt. Sie lernen also auf ganz natürliche Art. Alles wird in leicht verständlicher englischer Sprache erklärt, so dass Sie sich daran gewöhnen können, ‚auf Englisch zu denken‘. Es gibt 100e von Beispielsätzen, die Ihnen dabei helfen, zu verstehen, wie diese Wörter und Phrasen in der Alltagssprache verwendet werden. Ich habe für jedes Thema nützliche TV Serien und YouTube-Kanäle aufgelistet, um Ihnen bei der Übung Ihrer neuen Vokabeln zu helfen. A History of the World in 100 Objects Neil MacGregor.2011-10-06
This book takes a dramatically original approach to the history of humanity, using objects which previous civilisations have left behind them, often accidentally, as prisms through which we can explore past worlds and the lives of the men and women who lived in them. The book's range is enormous. It begins with one of the earliest surviving objects made by human hands, a chopping tool from the Olduvai gorge in Africa, and ends with an object from the 21st century which represents the world we live in today. Neil MacGregor's aim is not simply to describe these remarkable things, but to show us their significance - how a stone pillar tells us about a great Indian emperor preaching tolerance to his people, how Spanish pieces of eight tell us about the beginning of a global currency or how an early Victorian tea-set tells us about the impact of empire. Each chapter immerses the reader in a past civilisation accompanied by an exceptionally well-informed guide. Seen through this lens, history is a kaleidoscope - shifting, interconnected, constantly surprising, and shaping our world today in ways that most of us have never imagined. An intellectual and visual feast, it is one of the most engrossing and unusual history books published in years.

Foreign Language Teachers and Intercultural Competence

Lies Sercu, Ewa Bandura. 2005-01-01 Foreign Language Teachers and Intercultural Communication: An International Investigation reports on a study that focused on teachers' beliefs regarding intercultural competence teaching in foreign language education. Its conclusions are based on data collected in a quantitative comparative study that comprises questionnaire answers received from teachers in seven countries: Belgium, Bulgaria, Poland, Mexico, Greece, Spain and Sweden. It not only creates new knowledge on the variability, and relative consistency, of today's foreign language teachers' views regarding intercultural competence teaching in a number of countries, but also gives us a picture that is both more concrete and more comprehensive than previously known.

Language Hacking German Benny Lewis. 2017-11-14 It's true that some people spend years studying German before they finally get around to speaking the language. But here's a better idea. Skip the years of study and jump right to the speaking part. Sound crazy? No, it's language hacking. Unlike most traditional language courses that try to teach you the rules of German, #LanguageHacking shows you how to learn and speak German through proven memory techniques, unconventional shortcuts and conversation strategies perfected by one of the world's greatest language learners, Benny Lewis, aka the Irish Polyglot. Using the language hacks -shortcuts that make learning simple - that Benny mastered while learning his 11 languages and his 'speak from the start' method, you will crack the language code and exponentially increase your language abilities so that you can get fluent faster. It's not magic. It's not a language gene. It's not something only other people can do. It's about being smart with how you learn, learning what's indispensable, skipping what's not, and using what you've learned to have real conversations in German from day one. The Method #LanguageHacking takes a modern approach to language learning, blending the power of online social collaboration with traditional methods. It focuses on the conversations that learners need to master right away, rather than presenting language in order of difficulty like most courses. This means that you can have conversations immediately, not after years of study. Each of the 10 units culminates with a speaking 'mission' that prepares you to use the language you've learned to talk about yourself. Through the language hacker online learner community, you can share your personalized speaking 'missions' with other learners - getting and giving feedback and extending your learning beyond the pages of the book . You don't need to go abroad to learn a language any more.

Making it tangible. Learning outcomes in science education Sascha Bernholt, Knut Neumann, Peter Nentwig. 2012 One of the central features in current educational reforms is a focus on learning outcomes. Many countries have established or revised standards to describe what teachers are supposed to teach and students are expected to learn. More recently, the emphasis has shifted to considerations of how standards can be operationalized in order to make the outcomes of educational efforts more tangible. This book is the result of a symposium held in Kiel, that was arranged by two science education groups, one at the IPN (Leibniz-Institute for Science and Mathematics Education at the University of Kiel) in Germany and the other at the University of York, UK. The seminar brought together renowned experts from 12 countries with different notions of the nature and quality of learning outcomes. The aim was to clarify central conceptions and approaches for a better understanding among the international science education community. The book is divided into five parts. In Part A, the organizers set the scene, describing the rationale for arranging the symposium. Part B provides a broad overview about different approaches, challenges, and pitfalls on the road to the clarification of meaningful and fruitful learning outcomes. The set of papers in Part C provides deep insights into different, although comparable approaches which aim to frame, to assess, and to promote learning and learning outcomes in science education. Smaller projects are presented as well as broad, coordinated national programs. The papers in Part D outline the individual historical development from different national perspectives, reflecting the deficits and problems that led to current reforms. Finally, a summary of the organizers analyses the conclusions from different vantage points.

Time and Power Christopher Clark. 2021-04-13 Inspired by the insights of Reinhart Koselleck and François Hartog, two pioneers of the temporal turn in historiography, Clark shows how Friedrich Wilhelm rejected the notion of continuity with the past, believing instead that a sovereign must liberate the state from the entanglements of tradition to choose freely among different possible futures. He demonstrates how Frederick the Great abandoned this paradigm for a neoclassical vision of history in which sovereign and state transcend time altogether, and how Bismarck believed that the statesman's duty was to preserve the timeless permanence of the state amid the torrent of historical change. Clark describes how Hitler did not seek to revolutionize history like Stalin and Mussolini, but instead sought to evade history altogether, emphasizing timeless racial archetypes and a prophetically foretold future.

The Position of the German Language in the World Ulrich Ammon. 2019-08-08 The Position of the German Language in the World focuses on the global position of German and the factors which work towards sustaining its use and utility for international communication. From the perspective of the global language constellation, the detailed data analysis of this substantial research project depicts German as an example of a second-rank language. The book also provides a model for analysis and description of international languages other than English. It offers a framework for strengthening the position of languages such as Arabic, Chinese, French, Portuguese, Spanish and others and for countering exaggerated claims about the global monopoly position of English. This comprehensive handbook of the state of the German language in the world was originally published in 2015 by Walter de Gruyter in German and has been critically acclaimed. Suitable for scholars and researchers of the German language, the handbook shows in detail how intricately and thoroughly German and other second-rank languages are tied up with a great number of societies and how these statistics support or weaken the languages' functions and maintenance.

Discourse in Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) Classrooms Christiane Dalton-Puffer.2007-09-27 The label CLIL stands for classrooms where a foreign language (English) is used as a medium of instruction in content subjects. This book provides a first in-depth analysis of the kind of communicative abilities which are embodied in such CLIL classrooms. It examines teacher and student talk at secondary school level from different discourse-analytic angles, taking into account the interpersonal pragmatics of classroom discourse and how school subjects are talked into being during lessons. The analysis shows how CLIL classroom interaction is strongly shaped by its institutional context, which in turn conditions the ways in which students experience, use and learn the target language. The research presented here suggests that CLIL programmes require more explicit language learning goals in order to fully exploit their potential for furthering the learners' appropriation of a foreign language as a medium of learning.

Decolonizing Research Jo-ann Archibald Q'um Q'um

Xiiem, Jenny Bol Jun Lee-Morgan, Jason De Santolo. 2019-05-15

From Oceania to North America, indigenous peoples have created storytelling traditions of incredible depth and diversity. The term 'indigenous storywork' has come to encompass the sheer breadth of ways in which indigenous storytelling serves as a historical record, as a form of teaching and learning, and as an expression of indigenous culture and identity. But such traditions have too often been relegated to the realm of myth and legend, recorded as fragmented distortions, or erased altogether. Decolonizing Research brings together indigenous researchers and activists from Canada, Australia and New Zealand to assert the unique value of indigenous storywork as a focus of research, and to develop methodologies that rectify the colonial attitudes inherent in much past and current scholarship. By bringing together their own indigenous perspectives, and by treating indigenous storywork on its own terms, the contributors illuminate valuable new avenues for research, and show how such reworked scholarship can contribute to the movement for indigenous rights and self-determination.

Market Study about Coffee Daniel Hess, Magdolna Tokai, Clément Guenebeaud, Sven Halfar, Xavier

Micheletti.2004-07-15 Seminar paper from the year 2003 in the subject Business economics - Marketing, Corporate Communication, CRM, Market Research, Social Media, grade: A plus; 0,7, Budapest Business School (Marketing Departement), course: Marketing Research, language: English, abstract: Our challenge was to introduce a coffee brand into the Hungarian Market called "all continents". This coffee is for a young target group who like experience connected with a Hungarian image. During our research the following question: Will this launch succeed in the market that we have chosen? Therefore, we focused on the existing Hungarian coffee market; it`s consumers, drinking habits and competitors. To study this we used secondary research, a focus group interview and prepared a questionnaire. Firstly, we focused on the consumers. Coffee is a popular product and very frequently consumed in Hungary. The overall consumption of coffee is increasing as well, especially young people tend to buy more coffee. Furthermore, the consumption of this group is still growing. Secondly, we looked at the drinking habits. Our target group especially liked mixtures and there is willingness in their attitude towards trying new things. Also, they use coffee not only for the functional reason to wake up, but also for social reasons and having fun. Thirdly, we have looked at our competitors. Nescafe represents the spirit of youth by offering specialties. Segafredo is well known for its dynamism and strength. Tchibo is the brand that is lively and well known worldwide. Jacobs stands for the harmony of with variety of flavors. Douwe Egberts has a static image. Omnia is the virtue but is also less dynamic. Julius Meinl represents just quality but in a static way. Now we will try to give advise for the launch. There are good reasons, why the introduction of "all continents" could be successful. As we just explained, that young people are an important, increasing target group and the drinking habits are on the way to change, or are already changing. People want to try new things and drink coffee for a variety of reasons. Furthermore, we see a lack in the positioning image of the existing competitors. Nescafe is for young, experiential people, but it is not Hungarian. Brands with a Hungarian image are Douwe Egberts and Omnia. But their images have gone out of fashion and our target group did not like them. In conclusion, there is no brand, which has the image of a Hungarian brand for young, experiential people. In addition to our research we recommend to consider the analyze of the three remaining P's: price, place and promotion.

English C1 Advanced Vocabulary 2020 Edition [Englisch C1 Vokabeln] CEP Publishing.2020-05-25

Sent Jenny Ostini,John Chenoweth,Bernard Dainton.2020-10-16 In 2014, deep in the jungles of the Cameron Highlands of Malaysia, graduates of a mission boarding school gathered at the school for the first time as adults. They were there to assess how their time at the school changed their lives as children and affected the adults they became. They had been sent to this distant school many from age five, by their parents, who in turn had been sent as missionaries in Asia by churches and missions to which they belonged. Some alumni regarded their years at primary boarding school as the best years of their lives but others had been traumatised. The separation from their families had been damaging and many found their adult relationships impacted, their faith in a God for whom they were sent away, difficult. Depression and PTSD were common. In gathering together as adults with a shared past, and telling their stories, the attendees realised they were not alone; they saw their lives mirrored in the lives of others. Their families had been ruptured in their formative years, but here, in this place, were friends whose lives had followed similar paths. This motley crowd, of mixed generations from the UK, USA, Canada, Australia, Europe, New Zealand, South Africa, Singapore and Korea, who had attended mission schools in China, Taiwan, Japan, Malaysia and Philippines recognised each other. They belonged to this tribe! There was here a path towards healing. These grown children have tales to tell. The book 'Sent' is a collection of their stories, in their own words. There have been books about cultural confusion (Third Culture Kids). There have been books about missionary lives. This is one of the few to tell about the adult lives that followed in children sent away to a mission boarding school from young ages, so the work of God could continue. It is a powerful book. These stories may make you cry, they may make you think deeply about your beliefs, and the parent you are or will be. You may see that the deep convictions of parents can shape their children's lives in unintended ways.

Shelby works as a dog walker in northern California, and she's just finished up her bi-weekly trip to the park with a husky named Pluto. When she brings him back to his house, she finds his owner—Todd Burke, a well-known local businessman and founder of an organic supplements company—lying on the bathroom floor, dead. A detective arrives on the scene. As she interviews Shelby, the body is inspected by a medical examiner, and more cops search Todd's home, it becomes clear that the victim's life was less picture-perfect than his clean-cut persona might lead you to believe.

C++17 - The Complete Guide Nicolai M Josuttis. 2019-09-06
All the new language and library features of C++17 (for those who know the previous versions of C++). C++17 is the next evolution in modern C++ programming, which is already now supported by the latest version of gcc, clang, and Visual C++. Although it is not as big a step as C++11, it contains a large number of small and valuable language and library features, which will change the way we program in C++. As usual, not everything is self-explanatory, combining new features gives even more power, and there are hidden traps. This book presents all the new language and library features of C++17. It covers the motivation and context of each new feature with examples and background information. The focus is on how these features impact day-to-day programming, what it means to combine them, and how to benefit from this in practice.

The Great Reset Cyrus Parsa, The AI Organization. 2021-01-31
This book is meant to be a neutral analysis and depiction of threats to world leaders, big tech elites, Silicon Valley, conservatives, liberals, WEF, nation states, the intelligence community, and the common person. This includes religious people and atheists. I attempt to write on everyone's behalf, less one entity, the regime of China. I will describe the Great Reset (4th industrial revolution) more in detail from the macro perspective with short and concise summary paragraphs of each major global component as it relates to AI, smart cities, and the geo-political challenges that exist. I will go a lot further and beyond what the World Economic Forum has published and is disclosing to the public with Mr. Klaus Schwab's own book, COVID 19: The Great Reset, which shined may be 5% of what I will disclose in my previous book Artificial Intelligence Dangers to Humanity, and what I will be disclosing here, in this book. This book will show you the macro picture, (The Global 40,000 Feet View) which for most people should be sufficient to understand the grand picture and every major interconnected part. In this analysis, I will introduce ideas and threats that the World Economic Forum, Klaus Schwab (Founder of WEF), Silicon Valley and governments have not analyzed in their entirety as whole, with a focus on China CCP and A.I.I accurately predicted, published, and warned about the COVID 19 (CCP Virus) from China, lockdown, the Great Reset and 1000s of interconnected events and threats in 2019, prior to their occurrence on the world stage. The analysis in this book is derived from compressing the data, experience, Secret Service/Government reports, and intel from Cyrus A. Parsa, and The AI Organization's network of intelligence.
